

"No. I would not say that. He is a very sick man, but his condition under the circumstances could not be better. That much I will say emphatically."

"Was any trace of pus found in the exterior wound?"

"Not a particle. Pus means the existence of an abscess, and there is not the suggestion of pus about the President's body."

The bulletin which followed Dr. Watson's statement officially confirmed what he had said.

NO PERITONITIS.

Dr. McBurney remained in the house a week longer than the other physicians, leaving shortly after 11 o'clock. He confirmed the statement made in the bulletin to the effect that the examination of the President's blood showed no evidence of blood poisoning, nor did it, he added, show any sign of peritonitis. While the examination of blood was not made to determine the latter fact, yet it would unmistakably have shown it had there been peritonitis. The examination was simply a way of testing the conditions of the President's blood.

The doctor will remain over night and continue the consultation of the physicians tomorrow. The time of his departure has not been determined. Dr. Mann, who has attended every consultation of the physicians, was not present tonight, feeling that his attendance was unnecessary.

Dr. Park also expressed his satisfaction at the condition shown by the President, and the manner in which his system was responding to treatment.

BALTIMORE PRAYER SERVICE.

NOTABLE ASSEMBLAGES.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. BALTIMORE (Md.) Sept. 11.—It is estimated that at least 75,000 persons attended the service of prayer for the recovery of the President in the various churches of the city in connection with the proclamation of the Governor and the Mayor of Baltimore. The most notable gathering was that of the Associate Congregational Church and the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Messiah. In the former church, Democratic and Republican leaders were among those who sat on the platform. Highly-eulogistic addresses were delivered by Mayor Hayes, United States Senator McBurney and Rev. Dr. Hugh Johnston, the President's former pastor in Washington.

KENTUCKY CRIME CONFESSED IN FRESNO.

COMES TO LIFE AFTER TWELVE YEARS' BURIAL.

Secret Betrayed by Criminal Jap, Who Seeks Immunity by Threats—Kentuckian Sends Jap to Prison, and Will Stand Trial at Early Home.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES: RICHMOND (Ky.) Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sheriff Colyer is in receipt of a telegram from the Sheriff of Fresno county, Cal., conveying information that A. A. Kirby, a former Madison county citizen, who shot and killed a man named Groves at Berea, Ky., twelve years ago, has been arrested and is in jail awaiting the decision of the authorities in Richmond.

The prisoner is known as G. W. Green in his adopted home. He has been a resident of Fresno county for eight years, and is a prosperous and highly-respected citizen. His arrest was brought about in a peculiar manner. Kirby or Kirby is a sixteen-year-old daughter, and a Japanese woman, known as a criminal assault upon her, for which he was arrested. In some manner the man had become acquainted with Green's relatives in Kentucky, and the crime with which he was charged was with the hope of escaping prosecution, he threatened exposure. Kirby refused to be moved by the threat, and the Jap carried out his design. When confronted with the charge, Kirby confessed and expressed a desire to be sent to Kentucky to stand trial after the assailant of his daughter had been duly punished.

The Jap was recently sentenced to the California State Prison, and Kirby is in jail awaiting trial. As soon as the requisition papers can be secured, Sheriff Colyer will dispatch Deputy Sheriff Terrill to California to bring the prisoner to Kentucky for trial.

OBITUARY.

John Chisholm, Auburn, Sept. 11.—County Treasurer John Chisholm died here today. He was a prominent Methodist divine, and held the position of chaplain at Folsom Prison many years.

Dr. W. H. Wentworth, Sacramento, Sept. 11.—Dr. W. H. Wentworth, a well-known physician here, formerly of San Francisco, died tonight after a short illness. He was a son-in-law of Mr. Beard, a prominent Napa merchant.

WANTS EXECUTOR REMOVED.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 11.—Public Administrator M. D. Kell today filed a petition in the probate court asking for the removal of Edwin F. Rixey, as executor of the estate of Otto Meyersberg, on the alleged ground that he is neglecting the estate. Meyersberg died at his home near Los Gatos in February last, leaving an estate in this State valued at $350,000.

Rixey filed his oath of office on April 16 and returned to Chicago. He is a practicing attorney, and, according to Kell, has left the management of the estate to incompetent hands. On the showing made, Judge Kell will cite Rixey to appear in court on Sept. 20, why he should not be removed.

TO PROTECT GAME.

STOCKTON, Sept. 11.—Preliminary steps were taken this evening to form a San Joaquin county game and fish protective association, as a branch of the State organization. H. T. Payne, president of the State association, was present and explained the benefits and objects of the society. The first branch will consist of one hundred members and the membership roll. Young ducks and quail are being slaughtered in this county, and the new association intends to prosecute every man caught breaking the law. Commissioners will be appointed in parts of the state, and the society will stand back of them in all infractions of the law.

Mrs. McKinley Spends a Few Minutes With Him—Gen. Otis Calls.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. BUFFALO (N. Y.) Sept. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The wounds in the President's stomach are entirely healed. At 11:30 o'clock Dr. McBurney left the President's side, and said to the Times correspondent on leaving the Buffalo hospital: "The President has passed a comfortable night, and I am now perfectly certain that he will recover. The work of last night should not be identified by the term of an operation. We simply cut out two stitches and drew off serum, cleansed the wound, and left it to heal. A little watery serum that had collected under the skin was the only thing drawn off. There was no pus."

The stomach wounds having been entirely healed, the organ is now normally performing its functions. The President is now taking beef juice by the mouth, and may be given the white of an egg by night. There is not one alarming symptom at present. I may leave the city tonight, but if I remain here it will simply be because of my great interest in the case."

When asked regarding the President's condition, Dr. McBurney said: "In my estimation, it would be folly to move the President, because it is absolutely unnecessary. He has every care and comfort where he is, and should not have to leave for four weeks."

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. MILBURN HOUSE, Sept. 11.—Mrs. McKinley saw the President this morning. When the doctors arrived at the house for the consultation, they passed her sitting in the upper corridor of the residence at work on her knitting. She was in good spirits and after the visit of the doctors they sent her to her room again. She remained only a minute, as the physicians are avoiding any sapping of the President's strength by prolonged visits, even by those nearest to him.

Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles left his home for Buffalo the morning after the President was shot, arrived here this afternoon and came at once to the hospital. Dr. Mann, to whom Gen. Otis received at the Milburn house was exceedingly reassuring, and he went away satisfied that the President would recover.

Czolgosz's Tale.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Magistrate Prindiville today said that Emma Goldman, the anarchist lecturer under arrest here, should be held without bail pending a decision of the upper court in the criminal proceedings instituted by the police anarchist who similarly charged.

The action of Justice Prindiville in holding her without bail extends only to Friday of this week. On that day the question will be reconsidered and the magistrate will decide whether she shall be held without bail released under bonds until the preliminary hearing of the charge against her, which is set for September 18.

HAD NO LAWYER.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—In the courtroom City Prosecutor Owens stated that the prisoner was charged with conspiracy to murder the President, and therefore he desired that she be held without bail.

Miss Goldman was not represented by counsel, but declared she was ready to proceed with the hearing.

When the court granted the continuance, she said she wanted to be allowed her lawyer to speak. The magistrate said that as the latest bulletin indicated that the distinguished patient at Buffalo was on the high road to recovery, he would consider the matter of bail further and would announce his decision at noon.

Miss Goldman was led back to her room in the women's annex. She looked tired and worn, and there were evidences of nervousness on her face.

She said she was yesterday in a shirt waist and blue walking skirt.

When Prosecutor Owens reported the charge against her, she stood and then sat down.

"I am not Chief of Police," she said to the Chief of Police last night to have Lawyer Leopold Saitel sent to me," she said to an Associated Press reporter, before leaving the courtroom.

"I guess he must have forgot me," she said. "I don't think he could have been busy in my behalf, forgetting that most of them have been locked up in this station with the rest of the police have hung out."

HER VIOLENT LANGUAGE.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Emma Goldman had a very uncomfortable night in a women's annex to the Harrison-est Police Station last night. She lived nearly the whole night to the sound, again repeating her wonder at the idea that the police man as "McKinley" should receive such widespread attention.

"Her words were even more violent in the interviews she gave out," she said. "She was willing to take it for granted that her friends in the city would be held proper legal discretion.

APPEARANCE IN COURT.

At 10 o'clock Miss Goldman, looking pale, but determined, appeared in Justice Prindiville's court. She was accompanied by no one save Matron Hogan. She looked around the room, expecting to see some one, but there was none of her acquaintances.

She faced the magistrate, Assistant City Prosecutor Owens told the Chief Bull of Buffalo, and the other police to kiss Goldman's hand.

Pending the investigation they were taking. Mr. Owens asked for a postponement of the case until September 18, the date for the hearing of the two anarchist defendants.

Miss Goldman had no attorney.

STEPHS FOR EXTRADITION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

BUFFALO, Sept. 11.—The police have taken the preliminary steps necessary to secure the extradition of Emma Goldman, and it is understood that application for extradition to the State will go forward to the Illinois authorities as quickly as the formalities permit.

Chief Wilkie denied in most positive terms the report that his office had received warnings that the President's life would be attempted at this time.

"Usually we get a large number of letters from cranks, every time the President goes to a place," said Chief Wilkie. "I did not get many crank letters before the President went to Buffalo. We investigate practically all the warnings and intimations that come here, but matter how convinced we may be, it is hard to find irresponsible persons, and we would have made an investigation this time had anything been received."

CHICAGO LACKS EVIDENCE.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The Chicago police have no evidence in the case of the Isakas and other anarchist revolutionaries who were said to have conspired for the murder of McKinley.

The petition is directed against Chief of Police O. N. Sherard and Justice and Justice Chetlin.

Judge Chetlin inquired whether the prosecuting attorney had served notice on the police.

Judge Chetlin told him that he should have done so before he gave permission to file the petition.

The suit was dismissed by the court.

TO ASSASSINATE YORK.

ANARCHISTS REACH MONTREAL.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The world will say tomorrow that a report has come from Montreal that several anarchists had arrived there for the purpose of assassinating the Duke of York when he comes to Montreal. The report further states that the information concerning the plot was furnished the Mayor of Montreal by an Italian.

Gov. Voorhees of New Jersey corroborates the report. The conspiracy was hatched in New York, he says, while they are in the hands of the police, they are in the hands of the conspirators.

DETENTION OF MAGGIO.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

DENVER, Sept. 11.—A special to the New York Times said that the trial of Louis Maggio, the anarchist, who had to be held in custody, was on the train when Miss Goldman, wired her intention of visiting him.

The police department, he said, had received since Friday from Louis and Buffalo were made by him.

DETENTION OF MAGGIO.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

MILBURN HOUSE, Sept. 11.—District Attorney Penney, who has charge of the criminal branch of the attempt on the President's life, was in conference with Secretary of War Root today with reference to the case. It was stated afterward that certain questions with regard to the prosecution were considered, but there was no announcement of any definite conclusion.

It was stated as from authorities, however, that there are certain general features of the criminal branch of the subject now pretty fully settled.

As to Czolgosz, there is a general agreement that his crime is for the New York and not for the national authorities to deal with.

In New York a question has arisen as to the nature of the prosecution, as there are several phases in which the crime can be viewed, and the desire is to make the course which will be the most serious phases and will impose the severest punishment.

The prosecution were for conspiracy and aiding and abetting.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION.

Reports from the bedside of the stricken Chief Magistrate continue to be of the most favorable character. Step by step the progress toward recovery is made. The danger point may now be regarded as virtually passed, and unless there should be some wholly unexpected and serious complication the President will recover.

An examination of the blood yesterday showed no trace of blood-poisoning. The patient is taking nourishment regularly, by way of the mouth, and relieves it. The stomach assimilates the food readily, and the other organs are discharging their functions normally. All of which means that the President is well on the road to convalescence.

The movement for a day of national thanksgiving for the providential sparing of the President's life will receive a tremendous impetus when the physicians declare without reservation that all danger is past.

RECIPROCITY AND CITRUS FRUITS.

There is no doubt that the question of reciprocity will come up in the next Congress as a live issue. Everything points in that direction, and it would be foolish for us to shut our eyes to the fact, whether we may be strong protectionists or otherwise. In the course of the able speech delivered at the Buffalo Exposition by the President, a few hours before he was made the victim of a dastardly assassin, he spoke on this subject as follows:

"By sensible trade arrangements which will not interrupt our home production, we shall extend the outlets for our increasing surplus. A system which provides a mutual exchange of commodities manifestly essential to the continued healthful growth of our export trade. We must not repose in fancied security, thinking that we can forever sell our surplus, but little by little, as it were. If such things were possible, it would not be best for us or for those with whom we deal. We should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor. Reciprocity is the natural outgrowth of our wonderful industrial development under the domestic policy now firmly established. What we produce beyond our domestic consumption must have a vent abroad. The excess must be relieved through a foreign outlet, and we should sell everywhere that we can, but wherever the buying will enlarge our sales and productions, and thereby make a greater demand for our labor, that must we buy."

"The period of exclusiveness is past, the expansion of our trade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unpardonable. A policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals. Reciprocity treaties are in harmony with the spirit of the times; measures of retaliation are not."

"If, perchance, some of our tariffs no longer needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and promote our markets abroad?"

It is added that these remarks were received with great applause by his hearers. Not only this, but the press of the country, regardless of politics, approved these suggestions in regard to a moderate letting down of barriers which now exclude foreign products from this country.

Such being the case, it would be fit for all who are interested in the "faint industries" of this country to pare to protect their "infants," and be ready to show cause why they should be taken care of in the general organization of affairs that is likely to be established under the new order things.

It is scarcely necessary to point out the citrus-fruit growers of Southern California are directly affected, therefore are directly interested in this new deal that is proposed. Every man is naturally more directly interested in his own affairs than in those of others. We all think that our tables are the pretties and the best.

Even the late Senator White, Democrat as he was, made a strong effort for the protection of the citrus-industry of Southern California. His connection, we must not forget, is important as it is, the citrus-industry of Southern California a "small potato" in the business interest of the United States, as it comes to a reorganization of tariff, the question at issue will be the best for the people of the United States—the "greatest good to greatest number." In this respect seems as if the citrus-fruit growers of Southern California should be able to make a good showing. Theirs is an industry that has been established great difficulties—an industry has involved the expenditure of experience and a vast amount of money, and to keep which alive has required a vast amount of pluck and boldness. Perhaps, after all, it might be a good plan to let "Mr. Dooley" finish up that South African affair. He surely couldn't make a bigger muddle out of it than it has been thus far.

Kipling has turned out no poetry for some time. The only explanation we can give is fear of a broadside from the Triglav battery.

Cut out the root of anarchy as well as the branch. The plotters must repeat the same punishment as the real criminals in the case.

Grover Cleveland is going to Colorado to hunt bears. He had better put a tape measure in his pocket to be sure

MAKE THE PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME.

The crime of the assassin, Czolgosz, has aroused the people of the entire nation to the necessity for more stringent laws for the suppression of anarchy and the punishment of anarchists. Public sentiment is practically unanimous in favor of the enactment of such laws, and there can be no doubt that this sentiment will crystallize in appropriate legislation, both State and national, for the accomplishment of the desired result.

Probably nine-tenths of the American people have made up their minds that "the anarchists must go," and they will see to it that the mandate is carried into effect. Tolerance of these vermin has ceased to be a virtue. The time for energetic action is at hand.

Society must protect itself. Society has the right and the power to protect itself. Society will exercise that right and that power.

After all it looks as if the American mule would have to kick still more vigorously in order to bring the South African war to a sudden termination.

The "elevator eye" is the latest disease which attacks the youngster who runs his cage too fast. It hasn't struck the City Hall elevator boy as yet.

It is no longer etiquette to tell a girl she is a "peach." The latest up-to-date expression is "You're my potato."

An Alabama lyncher has just been sentenced to life imprisonment. Is the millennium at our doors?

The coal dealer and the ice man are beginning to cast lowering glances at each other.

The Goebel conspiracy is about to receive a fresh airing in the Kentucky courts.

The potato bug is hardly green enough to attempt an invasion of Paris.

he catches none of the animals of such insignificant size that the game warden will again call him down.

Instead of shouting "Hands up!" the bank robber who would make a haul where those female tellers are employed will only have to exclaim "Rats!" in order to get them to scoot for the back room while he gathers up the cash.

If it can be proven that Emma Goldman was in the plot to assassinate the President she should receive the same punishment as the inhuman fiend who was the direct cause of his present condition.

The American potato bug has invaded England; yet, in spite of the fact that potatoes are now retailing at 2½ cents a pound, it is not believed Great Britain even appreciates the new caller.

Nine Days' Session in Progress at Interdenominational Training School for Christian Workers, Boyle Heights.An interdenominational pentecostal convention is holding a nine days' session in the Training School for Christian Workers, corner of East First and Bailey streets, Boyle Heights. Thesemeetings are in connection with the opening of the fall semester of the training school, and have drawn at-tendents from all parts of the city.The special feature of Monday's services was a union pentecostal prayer meeting. On Tuesday Rev. Horace W.
Houlding, a returned Chinese missionary, conducted the forenoon services, and Dr. P. B. Bresnehan gave an instruction in "Doctrine and Practical Work."This was followed by a basket lunch and at 2 o'clock Miss Mary A. Hill, former principal of the school, conducted an exposition of the gospel.Each evening during the convention religious services are conducted, in a tentNorth Anderson street, near First street, by Evangelist Charles Linsburg, assisted by students from the training school.

Yesterday another general pentecostal prayer meeting was conducted by Dr. W. H. Studd of Pasadena, and at 2 o'clock George B. Studd of Pasadena gave an address upon "Thoroughness in Gospel Work."Today at 10 o'clock Rev. Mr. Hould-ing, Dr. W. H. Studd, Dr. W. H. Studd, three days of this convention. This is the day of the annual meeting of the China Band, who are now making the training school their headquarters, and who expect to leave for mission work in China in a short time, under the supervision of Rev. Horace W. Houlding.The training school last week moved to its present quarters, the northwest corner of East First and Bailey streets, but a movement is on foot to move the school to Boyle Heights.Miss Hill's resignation as principal, Miss Matilda W. Atkinson, a well-known evangelist through the Central and Eastern States and at present representative of the Western and Gospel Mission of Augusta, Me., has been elected principal, and will arrive here soon. Miss Hill will remain with the school until her departure for China.The training school is an interdenominational school for the training of Christian workers, and through the members of the faculty and various boards nearly all lines of church work in the ARIZONA.

GEN. SAMPSON
AND ECUADOR

Minister Talks of New Quito Railroad.

Thinks California Will Be the Gainer.

Head of Territorial University Summarily Removed and Goes to Court.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 8.—[Regular Correspondence.] General J. G. Sampson, Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary of the United States of America to the republic of Ecuador, has been revisiting Phoenix, where, four years ago, he was but a plain citizen. He still remains a loyal American, and has purchased a new home in Phoenix, against the time of his return.

Of particular interest to the people of the Pacific Coast, he tells of the near approach to completion of the new railroad that is to connect the port of Ecuador with the republic's capital city, Quito. One of the chief reasons for the interest felt in the road is that it will rob California of the monopoly she has had hitherto in the breakfast markets of Western South America. Thousands of tons of wheat and flour, hitherto shipped from the coast of California, are sent to the Coast from the highlands of Ecuador, where grain grows in all luxuriance and where cheap labor can compete successfully with even the great labor-saving machinery of the San Joaquin Valley. "But, in the end," according to Gen. Sampson, "I believe California will be the gainer, for a market hitherto but ill supplied will be opened up to her, and the products of American ingenuity in which our country has no competitors. Quito, a city of 80,000, is the center of a population of at least a million. To them to-day comes the news of freight rates. A load has been brought on the backs of mules, llamas or men. You will even find children bending under loads on the great trail that leads from the coast to the Andes."

The new railroad will run from the district east of Quito. Two-thirds of the cacao of the world comes from the same district. The grain traffic will be immense, and there will be freight rates up to the Andean districts.

Along the route are many old mines, once worked by the Incas, and the hillsides are often covered with droppings that would suffice an Arizona. To locate the mines, the company has put a prospecting force afield, comprising thirty American mining engineers headed by A. A. Blow of Denver.

Gen. Sampson will return in November to his post of duty.

THEY LOVE THE PRESIDENT.

Following close upon the heels of the first news of the President's wounding, Friday, came a telegraphic report of his death. Within ten minutes the flags were raised to half-mast and the business houses were being hung in crepe. Many stores closed their doors, and business activity was suspended.

The news of the citizen's death reached each lost a brother. Few can be found in the places in the Union where William McKinley is more highly esteemed than in Phoenix. His friends in the Capitol porch showed his kindly feeling toward Arizona, and his statement that he would aid in all ways to the procurement of Statehood for the territory have been warmly received.

His staff did all possible precautions were taken to guard him from possible injury.

The attempt of an intoxicated individual to climb into his carriage was the only untoward incident, and was handled by a guard before the President was aware of the fellow's presence.

CASE OF TAMMANYISM.

A Tammany-like condition of affairs is alleged to exist in the conduct of the local city government. The Council is solidly Democratic, and runs things with lofty contempt of the wishes of the people. Mayor Adams, a political Master and Republican by order. Every employee of the city must be a Democrat, and one who can help at primaries or elections. Furthermore, it is told that every man employed in the city government is a member of the Young Men's Democratic Club, for future campaign uses. Henry Bloomhorst, driver of one of the fire department teams, refused to be assassinated, and was dropped from the rolls, "for economy's sake," as the Council put it.

PHOENIX BREVITIES.

The Council has passed a stringent "sanitation" ordinance, particularly designed for the protection of the populace against tuberculosis. Consumption and typhoid fever are placed under the head of communicable diseases, and physicians are required to report to the Health Officer all cases under their care. All persons who report to the consumption within two days after the vacation of the room or house, the fumigation to be made, and the premises disinfected by the Health Officer. Diseases in second-hand goods must purchase articles used by consumers only on condition of immediate fumigation. Spitting, by any person, is forbidden upon the sidewalks or in any public place, to comply with the law is made a misdemeanor.

The Surveyor-General has been ordered to report to Washington the existence upon public land of any natural wonders, ancient remains, objects of scientific, historical, or artistic interest or springs of medicinal properties. The announced intention is to protect or utilize such tracts of land for the public good.

The summer temperature has moderated in considerable degree and with cool nights and with days wherein the thermometer rarely reads up to the 100 mark, industry is reviving and the thousands of summer "exodusters" are returning from the coast or from the summer camp at Iron Springs. The conditions of the summer past, as reported by the Weather Bureau, are chiefly remarkable for the fact that 24 deg. of excess temperature have been noted since the beginning of the year, more than two-thirds of it occurring during the past three months. So officially—the summer was unusually warm. During August the average daily excess was 2 deg. The rainfall for the Phoenix section for the month was 17.5 inches.

The latest victim of the gasoline stove in Phoenix is Mrs. C. W. Conner, well known in Los Angeles, where she and her husband lived for a number of years. Mrs. Conner and her husband fell from the back to the floor and exploded. The flames caught upon the woman's clothing, so cruelly burning her that death came within a few hours. Conner was a woman of the kindest character and of charming personality. She was a daughter of W. F. Pickas of Phoenix and had lived here since childhood.

The agitation caused by the Phoenix and Mexican Canal Board of Trade for the extension of the run of the Nogales train service from Tucson to this city has proved unsuccessful. Superintendent Worthington finds the traffic too light.

Work on the new powerhouse of the Phoenix Light and Fuel Company on the Arizona Canal, twenty-three miles east of Phoenix, has been commenced. The present plant is to be retained for the time being.

The report that a Messa woman gave birth to quintuplets was merely one of the regular Arizona hot-weather fakes.

Hall Bros. of the Wickenden News, have absorbed the W. H. Barber.

The new mill, of ten stamps in Granite Wash, in the extreme north-eastern corner of Yuma county, has been destroyed by fire, with a loss of $10,000.

The new mill of the Planet-Saturn Mining Company, in Pool's Gulch, near Congress, will be started September 15. The process adopted is similar to that used in the old mine, with the same success as is anticipated. Several attempts to evolve "improved" methods of reduction have failed.

John O. Dunbar and Samuel F. Webb, both from the city of Phoenix, of the Phoenix and Santa Fe News Gazette, are preparing for the publication of a history of Arizona, to be issued early in the coming year.

UNIVERSITY'S HEAD REMOVED.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 9.—[Regular Correspondence.] The greatest sensation of the season is the summary removal of Dr. M. Parker from his position as the head of the University of Arizona. The action was the more remarkable from the fact that, at a meeting held in May, attended, however, only by the local regents, the administration of the president was commended, and he was requested to remain at his post for another year, for another four years term, with an increase of $500 a year to his salary.

Dr. Parker signed his assent, and all appeared well.

ACTING MAYER POWERS ADVOCATES REORGANIZATION.

Taxpayers Must Be Protected Against the "Endless Chain of Taxation" That is Created by Firemen's Pension Law. Lieut. McGinley Dismissed.

Acting Mayor Powers yesterday tried his hand at issuing a message. It is the first one that the president of the Council has ever written from the Mayor's chair. The message was addressed to the Fire Commission, of which the acting Mayor is ex-officio chairman and advocated a reorganization of the fire department.

Ever since the law relating to firemen's pensions was passed by the last legislature at Sacramento, there has been an animated discussion of its provisions. By many reputable lawyers the law is said to be unconstitutional. By the majority of officials, outside of the fire department, it is believed to be extravagant in its provisions.

When a fireman is killed in the discharge of his duty his widow and children receive a pension under the law. If retired on account of disabilities received in the service, or at the end of a long employment in fire fighting, the fireman and his family benefit by an ample pension.

Acting Mayor Powers describes the operation of the law as "an endless chain of taxation" from which the taxpayers of the city should be protected. In his message, the Acting Mayor says:

"I earnestly recommend your honest and judicious efforts to work toward the reorganization of the fire department on a strict physical-examination basis; such examination to be conducted by the city physician, in connection with the board of fire commissioners."

Police Surgeon: "Or the reason that the last State Legislature imposed a law upon us, entitled, 'An act to create a firemen's relief, health, life insurance and pension fund for the cities and towns of the State,' chapter 67 of statute of 1901, page 101, which became a law without the Governor's signature, March 7, 1901."

"When we arrived, as almost impossible contingencies from a taxpayer's standpoint, I consider it your bounden duty as Fire Commissioners, who shall comprise this board under the law to provide the maximum of this endless chain of taxation."

"You're a good fireman, McGinley. I'll admit that," finally interjected Mr. Kubits.

"You've been in the department a long time, and you have always shown yourself a first-class fire fighter. But that doesn't excuse you from the law. You are ruled by the Chief or anyone else, they should be presented to this board in writing."

Orange County Towns: Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and La Habra

GOOD NEWS BROKEN TO MISS MULLINIX.

WINNER OF THE TIMES' SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST III.

Surprised Young Lady Grateful to Her Friends in the Cause—Dilge Held for Trial in Superior Court for Trying to Do Up Officers.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 11.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The news of heading the list in the Times' scholarship contest this morning was conveyed to Miss Jessie Mullinix, at her home on North Main street, by a representative of the Times, and to say that the young lady was pleased with the information. In fact, expressing it mildly, she was sitting propped up in bed. "Oh, how will I thank my friends for their kindness," Miss Mullinix exclaimed. She has been ill for several days as a result of overexertion in the contest, and is now threatened with pneumonia. She did not know that her friends had organized so thoroughly, and that a systematic canvass of the county was made in her behalf, consequently the information that she headed the list by a large majority came to her as a great surprise, and a most agreeable one. After hearing the news Miss Mullinix asked for a cup of tea and a few crackers, at the same time saying that she felt better than she had for three days. Mrs. Mullinix, Jessie's mother, is in the city visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. J. Brazzelton.

A SWINEHEART of this city departed today for Elkhart, Ind., on an extended vacation.

Miss Lena Lee left today for Seattle, Wash., to enter a girls' seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Klingman of Riverside visited her yesterday.

A. R. Rowley and family are spending a week at Long Beach.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

William Chambers of Anaheim, was seized with a fainting spell yesterday in this city on West Fourth street, and fell to the sidewalk. He was picked up by bystanders and carried to the Rossmeyer Hotel, after which medical aid was summoned. Later in the day he was convalescing.

Mrs. Mary Spears, who has been visiting the family of John Fox and other members of the Fox family, has returned, left today for her home in Tularia, Calif. She was accompanied north by Miss Florence Rose, whose destination will be Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickel, who returned yesterday from the north, are now in Sacramento, having gone lame in Sacramento. She will be put in good shape, if possible, for the Los Angeles races, in which she is entered.

DILGE'S EXAMINATION.

The preliminary examination of Harry Dilge, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, by attorney for the coroner, the Hon. W. C. Mullinix, was held this afternoon before Justice William J. Murray.

Officer J. W. Murray testified that the first he saw of Dilge was the morning of the trouble about 3 o'clock, when he was with another man, was trying to gain an entrance to Fischer's saloon, on North Sycamore street; that both men were informed they could not get into the saloon and so went to the next door house.

Murray testified that he next saw Dilge south of South Fourth street, on Sycamore, about half an hour later;

that the same man was with him still, and that the countryman, whose name is Miller, said he was looking for his brother, who was down the alley at Clapp's "poker joint," that Miller then went down to the "joint," after which he (the officer) again told Dilge to go home, whereupon he asked him to give him a match and to come out onto the street to talk to him; that just after he stepped out and handed Dilge a match, the latter lit a cigarette and then opened fire upon him.

On the stand, Officer Murray testified that he fired four shots at Dilge while alongside the warehouse and three shots on Sycamore street; that he had arrested Dilge three times prior to this, but had never arrested him near the fire hall on Sycamore street, when they pulled him from under his horses' heels. Officer Murray testified that he had never exacted any money, and that Dilge Murray was carrying the revolver with which Dilge did the shooting, stating that it was the gun Dilge threw out into the street to him.

Dilge was bound over to the Superior Court, where he was held in $500 bonds, which he failed to raise and was remanded to custody.

that the same man was with him still, and that the countryman, whose name is Miller, said he was looking for his brother, who was down the alley at Clapp's "poker joint," that Miller then went down to the "joint," after which he (the officer) again told Dilge to go home, whereupon he asked him to give him a match and to come out onto the street to talk to him; that just after he stepped out and handed Dilge a match, the latter lit a cigarette and then opened fire upon him.

On the stand, Officer Murray testified that he fired four shots at Dilge while alongside the warehouse and three shots on Sycamore street; that he had arrested Dilge three times prior to this, but had never arrested him near the fire hall on Sycamore street, when they pulled him from under his horses' heels. Officer Murray testified that he had never exacted any money, and that Dilge Murray was carrying the revolver with which Dilge did the shooting, stating that it was the gun Dilge threw out into the street to him.

Dilge was bound over to the Superior Court, where he was held in $500 bonds, which he failed to raise and was remanded to custody.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

William Chambers of Anaheim, was seized with a fainting spell yesterday in this city on West Fourth street, and fell to the sidewalk. He was picked up by bystanders and carried to the Rossmeyer Hotel, after which medical aid was summoned. Later in the day he was convalescing.

Mrs. Mary Spears, who has been visiting the family of John Fox and other members of the Fox family, has returned, left today for her home in Tularia, Calif. She was accompanied north by Miss Florence Rose, whose destination will be Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickel, who returned yesterday from the north, are now in Sacramento, having gone lame in Sacramento. She will be put in good shape, if possible, for the Los Angeles races, in which she is entered.

DILGE'S EXAMINATION.

The preliminary examination of Harry Dilge, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, by attorney for the coroner, the Hon. W. C. Mullinix, was held this afternoon before Justice William J. Murray.

Officer J. W. Murray testified that the first he saw of Dilge was the morning of the trouble about 3 o'clock, when he was with another man, was trying to gain an entrance to Fischer's saloon, on North Sycamore street; that both men were informed they could not get into the saloon and so went to the next door house.

Murray testified that he next saw Dilge south of South Fourth street, on Sycamore, about half an hour later;

that the same man was with him still, and that the countryman, whose name is Miller, said he was looking for his brother, who was down the alley at Clapp's "poker joint," that Miller then went down to the "joint," after which he (the officer) again told Dilge to go home, whereupon he asked him to give him a match and to come out onto the street to talk to him; that just after he stepped out and handed Dilge a match, the latter lit a cigarette and then opened fire upon him.

LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 11.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] An exciting runaway occurred Tuesday evening on Second street, which nearly caused serious injury to a man and woman and a bicycle rider. The boy, who was frightened at a Southern Pacific train and in turning off Second street on to American avenue, collided with Elmer Morgan, who was on a bicycle. The buggy was turned over and the occupants were thrown to the ground. The man gave his name as Mateson. This morning he was found to be H. M. Pierce, and that the woman's name is Mateson. The reason the man gave for not telling his name last night is that he did not want it to appear in the news. The man and the couple came to the Southern Pacific to make an investigation. It is understood that Pierce will pay for the damages done to the bicycle. Some of the parties were seriously injured.

SANTARIUM SETBACK.

The efforts on the part of the Long Beach Board of Trade to secure a site on Signal Hill for the proposed sanatorium have met with an obstacle. A five-acre piece on the summit is desired in connection with other adjacent land. The Southern California Lumber Company's dock, and the men employed in that company's yard would not handle the lumber from her because of the fact that the vessel carried a non-union crew. The vessel has lain idle since her arrival, the crew being kept busy repairing the sails and doing other odd jobs.

LONG BEACH BREVITIES.

While Robert E. Masters and J. B. Lewis were out in the Ranch Ivy Inn, a man who was arrested yesterday morning for the shooting of a weasel, a small animal, was brought in. The weasel was a wild animal, and the man who shot it was a negro ex-convict, L. E. Atwood. The schooner was made fast to the Southern California Lumber Company's dock, and the men employed in that company's yard would not handle the lumber from her because of the fact that the vessel carried a non-union crew. The vessel has lain idle since her arrival, the crew being kept busy repairing the sails and doing other odd jobs.

XIII.—JAPAN'S MERCHANT SERVICE.

(By Alfred Staud, fellow of the Royal Colonial Institute.)

HERE are few countries which one would expect to be interested in navigation more than Japan, her coast line is so great compared with her area, and there are so many good harbors in all parts of the country. The fisheries of Japan have always employed a large number of the inhabitants and have caused the construction of boats from the earliest times.

In the early days Japanese junk vessels ravaged the coasts of Korea and of China much in the way the Vikings ravaged the English coast. After the closing of the country consequent upon the doings of the Jesuit priests, the construction of vessels capable of crossing the seas was strictly forbidden. Only small boats of a form suitable for working close to the land were constructed during the period of seclusion which ended with the coming of Perry. Before he arrived, however, several English and Russian vessels touched at the northern part of the country, but they met with scant kindness, and were refused permission to land.

Even after the restoration the shipping of Japan did not show any growth until 1877, and until 1884-5 the navigation did not include any voyage beyond those along the coast of Japan. After that, however, the development of the merchant marine was very rapid, although in 1890 there were only 1450 vessels constructed after the European pattern with a tonnage of 145,692 tons.

6000 tons. The other company is the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, which has, however, no services beyond eastern waters.

The Nippon Yūsen Kaisha, or Japan Mail Steamship Company, is in a most flourishing condition and pays very good dividends. The capital paid up to date is $1,000,000, and the ships are owned by Japanese people. This is necessary in order that any company may receive subsidies from the government. Of the fleet of sixty-seven steamers now owned by the Nippon Yūsen, flag of Japan, there are fifteen of 1000 tons, over 2000, two of over 4000, seventeen of over 2000 and twenty of over 1000 tons. Of the new ships the largest are now running between Japan and Europe and America.

The chief lines operated by the company comprise the following:

European line, fortnightly, between Yokohama and Antwerp and London; Japan, China and straits ports; American line, fortnightly from Hongkong to Seattle, via Shanghai and Japan ports.

Australian line, monthly, Yokohama to Melbourne, via Japan ports, Hongkong, Manila and Australian coast ports.

Bombay line, four weekly, touching Hongkong and Singapore.

Besides these main-line services there are grain, coal and general routes on which communication is regularly maintained, comprising those between Yokohama and Shanghai, Kobe, Vladivostok, Shanghai-Tien-Tsin line, Okinawa-Korea-North China line, Kobe-North China line, besides frequent services between the coast ports of Japan and to Formosa.

FREIGHTS PAY DIVIDENDS.

Thus it will be seen that the company covers almost the whole world and yet its extent grows all the time. The directors are now considering the advisability of running a line of steamers between Japan and New York. The Nippon Yūsen Kaisha's boats have a total carrying capacity of 1315 first-class passengers, 711 second-class and 10,615 third-class passengers. Thus it will be seen that they do not rely upon passenger traffic to any great extent, although they make every provision for the amount of cargo handled by them.

The amount of cargo handled by the company in 1890 was over 1,000,000 tons. This was a decrease from the year 1887, when the total was almost 1,900,000 tons. Thus it is by the freighters carried that the company is able to maintain its own movements and to share the dividends among the shareholders each year. It must be remembered also that the Japanese steamers plying between Japan and European or American ports have to compete with many other shipping lines.

This is that nearly the whole of the export trade of Japan is in the hands of foreigners, who naturally have a leaning toward the employment of their own nation's vessels. Thus the British and German steamers benefit from an increased Japanese trade rather than the Japanese themselves.

The government pays the Nippon Yūsen Kaisha large subsidies on its various lines, and also on the same terms as to the size of the boats, their speed and so on. These subsidies have not been wasted when it is considered that the sixty-nine steamers and sailing vessels, aggregating 100,000 tons, which have been built by the company in 1888, have developed into sixty-seven steamers of 204,713 tons, valued at 20,934,000 yen. The services of the company now cover nearly 50,000 miles, as compared with 40,000 leagues in 1888.

POPULAR PACIFIC LINE.

There is also the Toyo-Kisen Kaisha, whose fleet of three steamers of 6000 tons plying between Hongkong and San Francisco. Although at present this line is not very large it has a very firm hold upon the Pacific carrying trade. Many passengers from San Francisco prefer these new Japanese steamers to the old American and English lines. The old steamers on these services having to keep up a fixed time from port to port.

SUBSIDIES.

In 1890 the government adopted the policy of improving the services on the principal lines, and at the same time granted subsidies to the operators of these lines. It has been decided to grant subsidies for ten years (1900-1908) on the European line and the two American lines, the boats on these services having to keep up a fixed time from port to port.

THE GOVERNMENT.

Since the war with China the growth of shipping has been very marked, as may be seen by the following table:

Steamers. Gross tonnage. Total tonnage. No. tons. No. tons.

1885 . . . 523,374 173 701 360,396

1886 . . . 528,226 173 775 400,534

1887 . . . 528,634 171 800 425,000

1888 . . . 574,464,228 1,210 149,400 1,934 612,636

1889 . . . 783,498,276 2,750 276,162 5,536 768,538

The total sum devoted to marine enterprises in the budget of 1890 was 6,077,523 yen ($2,424,792). Of this sum 225,161 yen was devoted to subsidies for the encouragement of the local services, 77,786 yen for the encouragement of navigation funds and 5,544-67 yen for the marine insurance-extraction funds. Only 277,526 yen are devoted to the encouragement of shipbuilding and 30,000 yen to the education of sailors and life-saving funds. Thus it is evident that the government is preparing especially to extend its navigation services as much as possible and is prepared to pay quite heavily for this object. The great increase of the merchant service of Japan is largely due to this government action, which entitles the individual effort not having to venture.

GREAT SHIPPING COMPANIES.

There are two great shipping companies in Japan, of which the Nippon Yūsen Kaisha is by far the largest.

This company is one of the largest in the world, having on June 1, 1890, six-treasurer vessels, with a tonnage of 1315 tons.

Besides this, the company has five steamers under construction, several of which are to be over were at the same time only some 200 foreigners qualified in the same way, it would seem evident that the Japanese merchant service can almost stand alone.

Most of the modern steamers in the Japanese merchant service have been built abroad, mainly in England. Now, however, the Nagasaki shipbuilding yard can construct ships of 6000 tons. There are other yards capable of turning out similar vessels. The government has tried to encourage home shipbuilding by enacting that upon foreign-built vessels the subsidies shall be reduced one-half.

THE CARRYING TRADE.

At the present time Japan is in a position to handle almost the whole of her carrying trade and all her export trade. The proportion of the carrying trade which has fallen to Japanese ships has increased very much since 1886. The figures are as follows:

1886 . . . 1890.

Yen . . . Yen.

Total trade . . . 258,631,609 428,343,516

Trade carried in Japanese ships . . . 7,785,316 139,427,882

This increase is out of all proportion to that of any other country.

The figures for American ships in 1886 were 14,135,072 yen and in 1890 they had sunk to 15,525,500 yen. The carrying trade which fell to British ships increased from 185,225 yen in 1886 to 180,000 yen in 1890.

If the development of the Japanese marine continues we may soon see all the carrying trade with Japan borne in Japanese vessels. An increase of twenty-fold in five years is marvelous and yet it is only in keeping with the general progress of Japan.

Signed.

"No, you 'ain't nuther; not by a jugful," interjected Col. Darley, uncle of Selina Darley, as he rose 'in his seat and glared across the room at Rayburn.

"It makes no difference," continued Holt. "Alone or alone, what I said I meant. While I am Sheriff peace has got to be kept, and this community respects the law, and the law respects the Sheriff. I warned Rayburn to keep out of town, and 'ere the Sheriff's voice rose to a high and querulous pitch—"there ain't a-goin' to be a play tonite until him and his gang get out of the city limits."

"It's all spite work," shouted a voice from the rear.

"Shet ep," commanded Col. Darley, rising for further remarks and somewhat at a loss what to say. "The Sheriff's voice rose to a high and querulous pitch—"there ain't a-goin' to be a play tonite until him and his gang get out of the city limits."
